BEHIND ALGERIAN LINES—Men of the Algerian Nationalist (rebel) Army receive rigid training along the style of the French Army. Here they carry modern weapons—mostly captured from French forces in the country. Though not a large force—it is said to number 20,000 to 30,000—these rebels have pinned down a French army over 10 times that size.

Election Set In Argentina

Liveliest Campaign
In Decade Ends

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's liveliest political campaign in more than a decade ended today with a final flurry of denunciations and victory predictions.

Sunday the nation's voters will elect a constituent assembly to take up the job of rewriting the constitution of 1853. The provisional government of President Pedro Aramburu — which threw out the Peron-written constitution of 1949 — says the assembly's main task will be to limit the executive's powers and specifically to prevent the president from running for re-election. That would do away with a provision that ousted President Juan Peron put in so he could succeed himself.

Aramburu has called for the constituent assembly to meet Sept. 1 and for general elections to be held next February to choose a constitutional government.

Peron, now living in exile in Venezuela, has called for his followers to "vote in blank" to demonstrate the power he claims he still holds in Argentina.

Campaigning closed at midnight and a 24-hour ban on electioneering was in effect today to give a cooling off period before the voters begin trooping to the polls.

More than nine million men and women are eligible to cast ballots. Aside from the diehard supporters begin trooping to the polls, forces are opposed chiefly by backers of radical party leader Arturo Frondizi.

Frondizi wound up his fiery campaign with an attack on the provisional government and the Peronists. He charged that Peronist orders to cast blank ballots

RAF Strikes Against Oman Rebels Halted

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — Informal sources said today the RAF has called off its air attacks on rebels who have been in revolt against the pro-British sultan of Oman and Muscat.

Reports here said the assaults would be suspended while the RAF studies damage caused by rocket-firing jets which have been peppering rebel strongholds since Wednesday.

Unofficial reports from London earlier said the attacks would be held up for a couple of days while an attempt is made at negotiating with the insurgents led by Oman's religious leader, the Imam Ghalib Ben Ali.

Reports from the combat area said the sultan's red flag was flying over rebel strongholds which had run up the Imam's black banner of holy war.

British officials said the aim of the attacks was to show the rebels what they faced if they refused to abandon their revolt which the British acknowledge is a test of their power and prestige in the Middle East.

Approximately $180,000 Needed For Survey Next Year

A Columbiana County real estate reappraisal will be made in 1958 if the county can raise the $180,000 necessary to defray expenses of the project, County Auditor J. J. Vorndran reported today.

At a hearing on the county's 1958 budget Friday morning in the commissioners' office in the Lisbon Courthouse, it was revealed that a total of $188,580 was being requested for next year to appraise real estate, as compared with $11,020 set aside for that purpose this year.

Vorndran said the last county-wide appraisal was conducted in 1952 and another appraisal must be made before 1960 or the Board of Tax Appeals will order the county to levy a blanket tax increase on all properties in the county to make up for the loss of money in taxes on new property.

After the 1953 appraisal the county realty tax valuation was brought up to $107,006,440. That appraisal had been ordered in 1951 by the Board of Tax Appeals to equalize real estate valuations to the required standards. The '53 appraisal, done by the Woodworth Co. of Columbiana, brought evaluations up to about 50 per cent of state value.

Fund Requests Greater

At the budget hearing yesterday the requests for operating funds by county departments were reported to total $1,278,372, or $408,322 more than the county's anticipated receipts of $869,550.

A breakdown in anticipated general receipts follows:

Balance as of Dec. 31, $50,000; general property tax, $473,000; classified property tax, $7,000; cigarette tax, $4,500; fees of county officers, $150,000; fines, forfeitures and costs, $2,000; sales tax, $120,000; other receipts (dog and road), $1,000 total, $869,550.

A breakdown in amounts asked by county officers and anticipated expenditures, (in parenthesis) is:

County commissioners, $42,000 ($40,976); Courthouse and jail, $110,000 ($108,945); county home, $90,000 ($90,670); tuberculosis hospitals, $150,700 ($150,700); justices' and mayors' courts, $5,820 ($5,820).

County welfare, $25,000 ($26,775); blind relief, $1,500 ($1,850); soldiers' burial, $1,700 ($1,350); agriculture, $31,800 ($31,200); miscellaneous, $5,275 ($5,275).

Ohio Edison Office To Be Remodeled

The Ohio Edison Co. lobby and offices at 553 E. State St. will be brightened by a remodeling project which will begin Monday, Manager Glenn Harding said today.

A semi-open front with aluminum exterior will feature the front of the building and new lighting, air-conditioning and ventilation will be installed on the inside.

Bricker & Bricker are the general contractors, assisted by Firestone Electric.

Harding said the improvement is in line with the "New Look" program which the Chamber of Commerce is pursuing among downtown stores. An office will be maintained on the main floor during alterations but appliances will be moved temporarily to the second floor, Harding said.

Health Levy To Be On Ballot

Tax To Yield About
$16,000 Per Year

LISBON — A levy of 20 hundredths of a mill for a three-year period will be placed on the November 5 election ballot to raise an estimated $16,000 per year for the Columbiana County health district.

The Columbiana County Health Advisors Council, meeting last evening at the Courthouse, voted unanimously to place the levy on the ballot. The action was taken because of an emergency which arose this month when Atty. General William Saxbe ruled that unencumbered balances in county health departments may not be carried forward from one year to the next, but must be returned or credited to the political sub-divisions which were assessed.

Last April when the 1958 budget was set up by the health board, it was anticipated that department would have a surplus of $23,000 to carry over from 1957 to 1958. The board then allotted $11,000 of this for the hiring of a sanitarian and planned to carry the balance over to 1959.

After the attorney general's ruling, Atty. Howard M. Cole, member of the health board, cited two plans which could be followed: The Health Department could return the $23,000 surplus to the sub-divisions and ask them to give back the necessary $11,000 needed for next year, or place a small operating levy on the November ballot to make up the difference.

J. E. Hinchcliffe, Center Township representative, said he was in favor of putting on the levy and giving all the people a chance to vote for or against it.

Atty. Cole said the surplus was accumulated during the time the county was without a health commissioner and through savings now

Bottleneck Holds Up Korean War Bonuses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wondering what the state is doing with your Korean bonus application? It is probably checking your Overseas Service dates.

Korean conflict discharge papers show elapsed time overseas, but not exact dates. But Director C. W. Goble of the Ohio bonus office points out the law covering bonus payments allows overseas awards only between exact dates — June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953 — when the shooting war began and ended.

That means every Ohio bonus application must be checked with federal record centers in Washington and St. Louis, Mo. The bottleneck is jammed — and then some. Goble reports:

"We are at the saturation point so far as speed is concerned. The record centers are co-operating 100 per cent, but they can only go so fast."

Bonus applications began to pour in last March 12 and the deadline is Dec. 31, 1958.

As of Thursday, the state had paid $9,705,193 to 41,551 claimants. When the job is finished, payments probably will be in the vicinity of 60 million dollars to about 250,000 Korean veterans.

Guatemalan President Assassinated By Guard

Adds To Confusion, Humphrey Says

Latest Jury Trial Proposal Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today denounced jury trial proposals, a crucial issue in the battle over the civil rights bill, as a deliberate, premeditated, cleverly concealed smokescreen.

A leader of Northern Democratic senators working with administration forces to prevent further weakening of the House-passed bill, Humphrey said the latest jury trial amendment just added to the "confusion."

The amendment, offered by Sens. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Kefauver (D-Tenn.), and Church (D-Idaho), would write a new federal law governing contempt of court proceedings in all kinds of cases — civil rights, labor or anything else.

Entitled to Jury Trial
Under it, defendants in criminal contempt proceedings, to punish a person for willful disobedience of a court order, would be entitled to trial by jury.

Civil contempt cases, designed to secure compliance with an injunction or other court order but not to punish, would be handled by a judge without a jury.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Dixie forces fighting the administration measure, promptly congratulated the three senators for their "attempt to preserve the right to trial by jury."

He said after an earlier meeting of 16 Southern senators that they would resort to "every means" at their command to try to defeat the bill unless a jury trial amendment is adopted.

In the face of Russell's obvious threat of a filibuster, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said President Eisenhower and the administration were standing firm against a jury trial amendment.

Reported Siding Firm
Humphrey and Northern Democrats allied with him said they were standing firm also.

The bill would empower the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations of voting rights. Persons accused of disobeying the court orders could be jailed for contempt without a jury trial.

The Senate earlier in the week, in a major defeat for the bill's supporters, struck out by a 52-38 vote another section providing similar procedure for the enforcement of civil rights generally.

Some senators looked on the amendment as an attempt to rally labor behind a jury trial amendment and also to pick up votes from the ranks of Northern senators friendly to labor but opposed to modifying the legislation further.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO said its policy-makers hadn't a chance to examine the amendment and hadn't taken a position on it. But he said they had been opposed, up to this point, to any jury trial amendment.

The Norris - LaGuardia Act, passed in the early 1930s, provided for jury trials in contempt cases growing out of injunctions obtained by the government in labor disputes.

But Kefauver said this had been

Alliance Man Shot To Death

Deputies Question
Couple In Shooting

ALLIANCE — Rowland E. Channel, 28, of RD 1, McCallum Road, Alliance, was pronounced dead at Alliance City Hospital at 3:45 a.m. today with a gunshot wound in the back of his head. He was taken to the hospital by William Pety Jr., 29, of RD 1, Oyster Road and Pety's wife, Norma, 26.

Captain Donald Cowen of the Alliance Police Department held Pety along with his wife at the hospital for deputies. Pety told them he was at home listening to the radio when he heard a car pull into the driveway. He picked up a luger type pistol and went to investigate, claiming he had been troubled previously by thieves.

He said when he got outside, the car was pulling away and as he raised the gun to fire a shot in the air, the car went into the ditch. He saw his wife standing along the road as he went to the car to investigate. He saw the victim slumped over the steering wheel and he told his wife to get their car and they took Channel to the hospital.

Deputies investigating the scene of the shooting found a spent cartridge 77 feet from the car. One bullet was lodged in the chamber of the gun and four others were still in the clip.

Questioning of Mrs. Pety showed she had returned home with Channel, whom she had met at a nearby fire several weeks ago and had been with several times since. She told the deputies that her husband was waiting when she arrived with Channel and he shot the victim through the car window.

Chief Sheriff's Deputy Ray Nunemaker said he was continuing questioning the suspects and probably would file charges next week.

Dr. E. B. Moses, Stark County coroner, ruled the death as homicide.

A native of Alliance, Channel worked as a landscaper. He leaves a wife, Barbara A.; a son, Peter; his father, Ira C. Channel.

Jimmy Hoffa Emerges As Beck's Successor

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmy Hoffa has emerged as the apparent strong man in the race to succeed Dave Beck as president of the powerful Teamsters Union.

Hoffa's growing strength in the 1 1/2 million member union was sharply focused yesterday when some 800 cheering, shouting Teamster leaders voted unanimously to endorse the Detroit candidacy for the $50,000 a year post.

The caucus was called by Hoffa's supporters especially to boom the 44-year-old "Hoffa for Beck's job. Beck is stepping down amidst charges by a Senate Rackets Committee that misappropriated large sums of money from the union.

Hoffa himself was acquitted by a jury July 19 of bribery and conspiracy charges brought by the same committee which said he tried to plant a spy on the committee staff.

Harold J. Gibbons, St. Louis Teamster chief, offered the resolution backing Hoffa.

"There's nothing I can do but carry on your wishes," Hoffa said later.

Enthusiasm for Hoffa led another announced candidate for the five-year post to virtually withdraw from the contest. John

T. (Sandy) O'Brien, who was running hard for the nomination, emerged from a conference with Hoffa and asserted:

Probers Ask UTW Chiefs To Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to look into the activities of the top two officials of the United Textile Workers Union (UTW).

The special Senate Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) wound up its investigation Friday with demands by a committee member that UTW President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert resign.

The committee had heard testimony that Valente and Klenert diverted $18,405 in union funds to their own personal uses over a period of years since 1952, and that Klenert had even charged the UTW $5.50 for a milk stool, $25.20 for a corkscrew, $2,564.65 for tickets to the Broadway stage hit "My Fair Lady," and for costly Bermuda, Florida and Maine vacations for his family.

McClellan authorized a statement that he was sending the stenographic record of the testimony to the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service for further investigation.

Klenert said he does not know whether he paid income taxes on $101,963 the committee accused him of diverting from his union's treasury. It accused Valente of using $26,442 in UTW funds.

Industrial Payrolls
Down For First Half

Industrial payrolls are down slightly for the first-half of 1957, according to Chamber of Commerce statistics.

Pay to industrial plant workers here totaled $11,192,267 for the first six months compared to the January-June total of $11,794,286 for last year, or a difference of $602,019.

However, the current first-half figures are $960,937 above the corresponding total of 1955.

Slayer Takes Own Life With Same Rifle

Castillo Armas, 43,
Had Ousted Regime
Supported By Reds

GUATEMALA (AP) — President Carlos Castillo Armas was shot dead by a palace guard Friday night.

Unofficial reports said the soldier who assassinated the anti-Communist leader took his own life with the rifle he used to slay the president.

Castillo Armas, 43, overthrew the Communist-supported regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in 10 days of military revolt in June 1954.

The scrappy Guatemalan leader, an army colonel, forced out of office a government in which Communists wielded their greatest influence in the history of Central America.

There have been several plots reported against his regime allegedly masterminded by Guatemalans living abroad. Arbenz himself is in exile in Europe.

Castillo Armas led a ragtag army of irregulars against the Arbenz forces to bring his country back from the road to communism. He quickly purged the country of Communists, sending them into exile or putting them in jail.

He also moved against right-wing elements who he said "might try to hold back the hands of the clock of history."

Castillo Armas was graduated from Guatemala's military academy — the Polytechnic School in 1936 — and went into the army.

During World War II he served as a member of the Joint U. S. Guatemala commission charged with the planning the mutual defense of the hemisphere.

His wife, an attractive brunette, was a school teacher before their marriage.

His election as a constitutional resident took place in October 1954, several months after the successful revolution.

Students have been in the foreground of resistance to the Castillo Armas regime.

The worst outbreak came in June 1956, when 5 students were killed in a clash with police and 17 others were wounded. One policeman was shot to death and 1 wounded.

Castillo Armas put the country under modified martial law for 30 days. Security chief Ismael Ortiz Orellana linked the student demonstrations with a Communist plot to overthrow the government, but the student leaders denied any Red connections.

In March 1956 Castillo Armas announced a five-year economic development plan for the country to which the United States contributed almost $4 million dollars.

Bible Words for Today

GENESIS 1:27 — "So God created man in his own image." (RSV)

What would happen in our churches if we all preached that God created the human family in love as a product of His own nature? We are truly the children of God. God cannot be divided into segments. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God." We do know that Jesus prayed that His followers be one.

Most of the human family have been forced by circumstances to live separated by geography, by language and customs until each has come to assume it was the reason for God's creation. Today our world is compelling us to live together. It is gratifying to find that in our scriptures it was intended from the beginning that we should live as one human family under God. Father, may we learn the true meaning of thy Fatherhood and of our brotherhood.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Enjoy Your Job

I learned something recently from a housepainter and a window washer. The painter's face was flecked with paint, his shoes spattered. And he had worked hard all that day.

Peale

"You must be tired. Up and down all over a house looks like a hard life," I suggested.

He thought for a moment, then replied: "Oh, I don't know. I get a big kick out of the job. I like working outside. I live with the clouds, the sun and the trees and the winds. I must say that I love it. And I'm proud to spend my life making things look better."

He was so enthusiastic that, instead of feeling sorry for his supposedly hard lot, I was almost convinced that I should give up writing and go into housepainting!

There is scarcely anything as thrilling as finding a person who loves his job and loves life. A lot of people are so filled with gloom and negatives, with groans and complaints that they cast shadows over all they meet. Now surely that isn't the way we are supposed to live. Almighty God made us to enter into the fullness of life and live enthusiastically.

NOT LONG AGO, I was sitting in my room on the 22nd floor of a Chicago hotel overlooking Michigan Avenue, when there was a knock at my door. I opened it and there stood a friendly man, whistling, a pool over one arm and holding a brush in his other hand.

"Good morning," he said. "May I wash your windows now? I'll be through in a jiffy."

I was busy with some writing and it wasn't the best time for me to be interrupted, but I answered, "Certainly, come in."

He crossed the room, still whistling, threw up the window sash, fastened the rings of his safety belt to the outside hooks and stepped out on that twenty-second story ledge as calmly as though it were nothing at all. Two or three swipes and the window was washed. He repeated his performance on the other window.

Fungus Infections of the Nails

What is a difficult problem of treatment is presented in today's first letter.

Q — My husband has a fungus infection under his toenails and lately they get sore. If nothing is done, can the fungus eventually harm his feet and is there any other cure than removing the toenails?

A — The treatment of fungus infections of the nails is often exceedingly difficult. Sometimes the fungus can be treated by soaking in appropriate chemicals or by externally applied medicines. However, sometimes it is necessary to remove the nails or to give X-ray treatments. With something as difficult and complicated as this, the best possible professional advice is advisable.

Q — What can be done to heal a fissure?

A — A fissure is a crack; in most cases this refers to a crack in the skin at the outlet of the digestive tract. It can be painful and cause a good deal of difficulty. Sometimes the fissure is larger than is realized. As a rule, its cure is by operation and the surgery may have to be fairly extensive. However, since a fissure in this area rarely heals of itself surgery is generally well worth while.

Q — I have taken hay fever shots for several years and am getting much better each year. However, there is something else which bothers me. I cannot stand to use any perfume, powders or face cream which contains orris root. Is there anything else I can get?

A — It is evident that you are allergic to a number of substances. Sensitivity to orris root is by no means unusual. I believe there are some cosmetic preparations on the market from which orris root has been eliminated. You should be able to find these low allergenic cosmetics in almost any drug store or other store handling such preparations.

Q — I went to the doctor with the high hopes of being told I was to have a baby. Instead, he told me he couldn't tell yet unless I had a laboratory test, which I can't afford. Why can't he tell?

A — It is often difficult to know with certainty from the clinical symptoms alone in the very early stages whether pregnancy has occurred. It is for this reason that laboratory tests using frogs or rabbits have been developed which will answer the question much earlier.

What will happen to a person with diabetes who eats only one meal a day and drinks beer and whiskey most of the time. He has started gaining a lot of weight.

A — The consumption of one meal a day and large amounts of beer and whiskey together with gain in weight could be exceedingly harmful for someone with diabetes. Every effort should be made to have this individual obtain proper advice on diet — and to follow it.

Bolton Quits State Commerce Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill today announced the resignation effective next Friday of Oliver P. Bolton, Mentor, as state director of commerce.

Bolton, former Congressman, gave the press of personal business as his reason for leaving the $10,000-a-year post.

O'Neill said he will announce a successor before Bolton's resignation becomes effective. The director's assistant now is William Carroll, former assistant Ohio attorney general, who heads the Division of Securities in the Commerce Department.

Bolton, son of the late Rep. Chester C. Bolton, served in Congress with his mother, Rep. Frances P. Bolton, as a member of the first mother-son team on Capitol Hill.

He is publisher of the Daily Reporter in Dover and the Lake County News-Herald, Willoughby.

Politicians observed that Bolton's resignation placed him in position to seek election to public office, possibly U.S. senator. They expressed belief that Bolton would seek that office if Republican U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker does not seek re-election next year.

Bolton served two terms in Congress, but did not seek re-election for reasons of health. He represented the 11th District from 1932-36.

Blackwood Says Trip Not 'Rewarding'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Donald J. Blackwood and his family, interned in Red China after an impulsive peek behind the Bamboo Curtain, have arrived here to make what he hopes is a permanent home—and get some rest.

"We've been back only two hours," he said Friday night, "and we're awfully tired."

Blackwood, his Korean wife Jung Sook Rhee and their 11-months old son, Bobby, were ousted from Red China earlier this month after a 2½ month detention.

Blackwood was rueful about the trip which caused his father James D. Blackwood, to fly to Hong Kong and nearby Macao to seek an explanation for his son's disappearance.

Young Blackwood said his trip was "not especially rewarding—not when you balance everything—the trouble and expense to the family."

The couple slipped into Red China from nearby Portuguese Macao on April 27, but were quickly detected and taken to Canton where they were detained until last July 12.

The Blackwoods were still surprised at the international concern started by their unauthorized trip. "I didn't expect it," Blackwood said, "and I certainly didn't try to make it anything like that."

The young American family got a quick look at Canton before being unceremoniously bundled out of the country. Blackwood said "the streets are clean . . . but people are sleeping in them."

He said he "didn't see many soldiers" and that "almost everyone was dressed poorly."

The Blackwoods returned Friday night by train from Seattle where they had debarked after a flight from Hong Kong.

Blackwood said he hopes to be able to help his father, who operates a string of drive-in restaurants here.

He said, "we're all happy to be settled where we can stay a while."

My PRIVATE MOVIE

There was a day last summer that I keep tucked away in the back of my mind, like a miniature mental movie all my own. Sometimes, when other days aren't quite as bright as this one was, I take it out and reel off a private showing.

It was a Sunday. We'd been to church, Lee and the three children and I. Then we went home and packed up a big picnic lunch and took it down to the creek. It was one of those perfect summer days poets have written about. Everything tasted better than it could possibly have been. When we'd finished eating, the kids sailed their boats while Lee and I stretched out on the grass and looked up at the blue silk sky, all dotted with fleecy white clouds.

We didn't say anything, but I know that we were both thanking God for all the blessings he'd bestowed on us. I know that we were feeling, just then, particularly at peace with ourselves, and with the universe. I was thinking, too, of our kids as they'd come out of Sunday School that morning, with their bright faces glowing, and I gave a silent vote of gratitude to my parents for having raised me in the Church. Now I was able, in turn, to pass on this priceless heritage to my own children.

In this high pressure, jet-propelled age we're living in, we need so much to guide our children in the right way. Without the aid of the Church I, for one, would be at a total loss—and that afternoon I realized it, with particular emphasis.

I suppose, when you come right down to it, we really didn't do so much, that Sunday. But it was a day that left me with a feeling of family unity, of togetherness . . . I shall never forget.

Sometimes, when things are "at sixes and sevens," a parent needs to take time out to remember just how precious a family is. Whenever I find myself in danger of forgetting—I just dust off my movie and live that Sunday all over again, to myself.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ballot Pressure

The U.S. Senate has two ways to weaken strong legislation. Its members can talk it to death by a filibuster, or they can amend it to death.

They are amending the civil rights bill to death. But in the instance of this particular bill, the chances are good that a spark of life will be salvaged.

This is the principle that states which reduce colored people to second-class citizenship by taking away their constitutional right to vote are acting out of order.

It will be the same principle laid down by the U.S. Supreme Court in its historic ruling that states which make distinctions between white and colored pupils in their school systems are acting out of order.

In neither case can the federal government force the nonconforming states into line overnight. All the federal government can do at the most is to exert relentless pressure to keep the nonconforming states aware of their obligation to move in a constitutional direction.

The South's favorite rebuttal to the charge that it is flouting the Constitution is the claim that its critics do not understand its peculiar problems because they are not native Southerners; that if they were natives they would not be critics.

In the first place, some of the hardest cities of the South's abuses are Southerners who want to remove the stigma of backwardness from the South.

In the second place, it is begging the question to say that a critic is not qualified to speak unless he lives in the South. It might help Southerners to understand their provincialism if they lived in the North.

There are race-relation problems in Northern states, too. Civil rights have not been won without friction and tension anywhere. The difference has been that in Northern states there has been relentless pressure to keep moving in a constitutional direction.

The pressure has been exerted not only by whites in the issue of civic rights for colored citizens but by the colored citizens, themselves, thanks to their right to vote.

In a very real sense, it is the power of the colored vote in northern states that has brought the civil rights issue to another showdown in Congress.

The voting right is the key to the growing stature of the colored minority in the United States. If it is the only thing salvaged from the civil rights bill this year — if nothing survives but the principle that no state can deny the ballot to citizens because of their color — a tremendous gain will have been made.

Relentless pressure will have been put on the nonconformist states to line up with the Constitution of the United States.

Bury It Now

With the latest defeat of the proposal to start a federal handout system for school districts in states with no inclination to pay the full cost of education, the issue should be buried and forgotten.

All nonsense about it should be buried and forgotten, too—the false enthusiasm whooped up by educators, the bland reassurances that the power of the purse would not assert itself in school aid, although it asserts itself in everything else and fright-wig warnings about what will happen if taxpayers in states already supporting their school systems do not bail out taxpayers in states that lack gumption to pay the price of progress.

Federal school aid lacks sufficient converts to put it across in Congress for the best of all possible reasons. It does not make good sense. This does not jibe with the explanation that it is being blocked because of school segregation in some states nor with the explanation that it is being blocked because of hard-bitten opposition to education per se.

It is being blocked because it makes no sense for states that are not taxing themselves enough to meet the cost of decent school system to bleed to Washington about school aid drawn from states which are doing a good job. For instance, North Carolina is trying to entice industries away from other states by talking about low taxes and a surplus in the state treasury of 63 million dollars. Yet, North Carolina would have been eligible for federal school aid; that is, it would have drawn more aid than it paid out in the form of federal taxes.

Sixteen other states would have been in the same favorable position. Thirty-one states, on the other hand, would have paid out more than they received. They would have been further ahead to hang on to their money in the first place.

If there are any states actually so poor they cannot support school systems, they should ask for charity, not federal grants.

Majority Of State Jurists Vote Condemnation

Criticism from laymen and lawyers concerning recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States has lately been attracting much attention but how do some of the judges throughout the country feel about the highest court?

There are not many opportunities for judges to discuss these matters publicly. But something that occurred the other day at the conference of the chief justices of the highest courts of each of the 48 states throws a light on this question.

A substantial number of the state chief justices favored a resolution condemning in the severest terms some of the recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

HERE IS THE full text of the resolution offered by Chief Justice Norman F. Arterburn of the Supreme Court of Indiana:

"Be it resolved, that it is our opinion that the United States Supreme Court has transgressed sound legal principles, and in particular, usurped fact-finding functions in weighing the evidence in the recent case of Konigsberg vs. State Bar of California and Schwartz vs. Board of Bar Examiners of the State of New Mexico.

"Moreover, the United States Supreme Court has encroached upon the jurisdiction of the state courts in holding, among other things, that applicants seeking admission to the bars of the State of California and New Mexico, in examinations as to their character and fitness to practice law in those respective states, may refuse to answer questions or enlighten the examining board about their past connections and associations in particular with Communists and communistic organizations.

"We declare that the past acts and associations of applicants do reflect directly upon their character and fitness and are matters relevant for consideration.

WHETHER OR NOT one who went through a long economic depression should have had the strength of character, moral fiber and stamina to withstand the emotional appeals of Communists — as most good citizens did — or whether as a weakening he succumbs to such propaganda, is relevant in the analysis and determination of the character of such individuals. The United States Supreme Court is wrong in holding

Too Much, Too Soon

By TRUMAN TWILL

I am glad a friend of mine finally made it impossible for me to avoid reading Robert Paul Smith's little book with the big title:

"Where Did You Go?" "Out." "What Did You Do?" "Nothing."

The author may not have been trying to prove anything to the readers of his book, but this reader believes something is proved by his delightful account of how things were when his readers were kids and how things have improved so much since then that they have deteriorated.

This deterioration is not a reflection of fuddy-duddy thinking. It is a fact.

Kids used to grow up in unimproved environments in which nothing was done to make their development scientific. They were thrown on their own in a mystic and haphazard ceremony of learning how to survive by the sink-or-swim method.

They lived by codes and legends that were childhood's own. They put up a solid front against their enemies, such as parents, school-teachers, adults in general and the logic and laws of society which later on they would be permitted to join.

They sat on their little duffs for hours at a time when they were fresh out of pressing projects, such as digging holes for the hell of it, and thought about stuff. Gradually, one step at a time they reached conclusions which became the basis of their working knowledge.

They did not take any points of view ready-made from bumbling oldsters. They turned thumbs-down on all attempts to convert them to goody-goody thoughts and, having learned how to accept and reject ideas, they mostly turned thumbs-down on attempts to convert them to delinquency, also. They knew how to be selective. They developed judgment.

Most of them were well-schooled in delinquency by the time the boys were ready to shave their beards and the girls were old enough to put up their hair. But for the most part they rejected it as being not worth the trouble. Other things provided more fun.

All of these things, the shady and the bright, have been catalogued by Author Smith, who has total recall of everything that came within range of his comprehension when he was a child.

The only thing he missed in childhood's fabulous folklore, as far as I can detect, was the belief that a fresh horsehair popped into a glass of water and kept there that such acts are of no value in such determination.

"Decisions which are not founded on sound legal principles or common sense tend to undermine confidence in the judicial system and respect for the courts.

"We further state that one who is unwilling to give freely all relevant information regarding his history and past associations casts doubts upon his moral character and fitness to practice law in any state of this Union and such refusal is a relevant factor to be weighed and considered by a fact-finding body on character and fitness.

"We further declare that although the United States Supreme Court has the authority to fix its own standards of character and fitness to practice in the federal courts we do not recognize nor concede that it may do so for the courts of the several states of this Union."

WHILE ALMOST a majority favored the immediate adoption of the resolution, there were a number of justices who were in sympathy with it out felt that the subject should await a further report.

Accordingly, a motion was made to appoint a committee to report back to the conference next year, and the resolution which was finally adopted declared that the chief justices were very much concerned with what the Supreme Court of the United States had ruled.

As for the decision in the Konigsberg case to which reference was made, this was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States by a 6-4-3 vote.

Justices Frankfurter, Clark and Harlan dissented. In fact, Justice Harlan, in his lengthy dissent, wound up with this observation: "For me, today's decision represents an unacceptable intrusion into a matter of state concern."

MANY AMERICANS of the present day do not realize that criticism of the Supreme Court has been frequently expressed in past history and that perhaps the most severe castigation the high court ever got came from the pen of Thomas Jefferson. In a letter to a friend in 1820, he wrote:

"Having found, from experience, that impeachment is an impracticable thing, a mere scarecrow, they consider themselves secure for life; they skulk from responsibility to public opinion. . . . An opinion is huddled up in conclave, perhaps by a majority of one, delivered as if unanimous, and with the silent acquiescence of lazy or timid associates, by a crafty chief judge, who sophisticates the law to his mind, by the turn of his own reasoning."

Senatorial Double-Talk

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Enough hypocrisy was revealed in the battle to put the Hells Canyon bill through the Senate to fill a book.

Perhaps the greatest deceit was to give as a reason for its passage the urgent need of the Northwest for power.

There is no question about the need of that growing region. But to wipe out, by act of Congress, the project under construction by the Idaho Power Company and substitute a higher federal dam would be to defer for at least eight years a supply of power which, if the Idaho company is to be permitted to complete its first dam, will be flowing off the generators in a year.

However, Sen. Morse all along has perpetrated a bit of double-talk which is almost as bad.

He knows quite well, because his own state is largely dependent upon private companies for electric power, that the preference clause governing the distribution of power generated by federal projects will, to a greater and greater degree, give a disproportionate amount of power to the neighboring state of Washington.

Hence, he has been at pains in his speeches over the past two or three years to tell his constituents that they will be assured a plentiful proportion of the energy created by the various new federal projects which he advocates.

In a pious Christmas message to "Fellow Oregonians" last December, on stationery festooned with holly berries and issued from the Loyalty Building in Portland, he said for their reassurance that one of his basic principles was that "private utilities should be guaranteed a fair share of power supply from our federal projects."

But on various occasions since, he has refused to commit himself concerning any change in the preference law.

In his Hells Canyon bill, introduced in the Senate "for himself" and 26 other Democratic senators and one misguided Republican named Wiley, there is this promise to the state of Idaho:

"In order to facilitate the development of the Central and Upper Snake River Basin (the most populous part of Idaho and a barren fringe of Eastern Oregon)

President Eisenhower is re-signing to another knock-down, drag-out farm fight with Congress next year.

This has been revealed by White House aides who said the chief executive probably will tee off the third major scrap with the legislators on the politically explosive farm problem, in a January message to Congress.

Previous battles have involved the flexible farm price support program and the soil bank plan for reducing crop surpluses. The President initially won his point in both these efforts.

The problem of declining farm income has been one of President Eisenhower's biggest headaches since he took office in January, 1953. Since that time he has spent a lot of time trying to find a solution.

At present the farm problem is on the agenda every week at White House Cabinet meetings.

It is a matter which transcends the routine of working hours of the President—he even brings it up at social functions and "stag" dinners.

Already Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has laid sweeping new proposals before congressional farm committees. Benson wants Congress to do away with current mandatory minimum price supports of 75 per cent of "parity" for basic farm commodities and probably for dairy products, too.

Instead, Benson wants discretionary authority left with the secretary of agriculture to set price supports between zero and 90 per cent of "parity" to discourage surplus production and provide farmers more freedom in their operations.

... shall be made available for use in Central and Upper Snake River Basin and to all other parts of Idaho lying outside the Central and Upper Snake River Basin."

That was to give the Morse proteges in Idaho, Rep. Post and Sen. Church something with which to beguile their fellow citizens.

The passage above is taken from Section 4 of the bill. But in Section 3b it is provided that "electric energy available from Hells Canyon Dam . . . shall be marketed by the secretary in accordance with sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of the Bonneville Project Act of 1937 . . ."

The act to which reference is made definitely contains the preference clause, which means that in case public power agencies and co-operatives in Washington and elsewhere do not demand the kilowatts, Idaho—dependent upon private power—can have them.

Thus Morse giveth and Morse taketh away in the same section of his bill.

Exodus Fixed At 1446 B. C.

By H. J. THOMSEN

LUXOR, EGYPT — An Egyptian government archaeologist claims to have solved one of the most controversial mysteries of Biblical history—the time and place of Moses' flight from Egypt.

Khatama, a small village 45 miles northeast of Cairo, has been fixed as the capital of Egypt in the time of Moses by Dr. Labib Habachi. The Egyptian scholar has calculated the date of the Exodus at 1446 B.C.

At a meeting here with Dr. Erwin R. Thiele of Berrien Springs, Mich., an eminent American Biblical scholar, Dr. Habachi related how he had bought up mud houses in Khatama in order to assemble scores of fragments of stone bearing hieroglyphic inscriptions imbedded in their walls.

The inscriptions, he said, provide proof that Khatama was the site of Avaris, the capital of Egypt during the Exodus.

Fixing the date of the Exodus has long been one of the most fascinating problems of Bible history. Since the Egyptians never admitted defeat in any campaign, no mention of the Exodus has been found in Egyptian hieroglyphs.

Both Dr. Habachi and Dr. Thiele agree that it took place during the reign of Amenhotep II in the 18th dynasty, not under Remeses II, who came much later but has long been named the oppressor of the Israelites.

They base their opinion on a collection of clay "letters" sent from what is now Israel to the Land of the Pharaohs. These "amarna tablets" mention the tribe of the "Habiru" in Palestine and the two scholars claim, evidently refer to the Hebrews. The date of the tablets fixes the time of the Hebrews' return.

If Amenhotep II was king at the time of the Exodus, as Dr. Habachi believes, then the prince who rescued Moses from the bullrushes was the one who later became known as Hatshepsut and ruled from about 1507 to 1479 B.C.

Perennial Farm Plague

By KENNETH SCHEIBEL

Government-controlled surpluses are now at the lowest point in 20 months. They total $7,645,075,000. The peak, in February of 1956, was $9,930,381,000.

Under the flexible price support program now in effect government price supports must be boosted when surpluses decline. But Secretary Benson, in letters to congressional farm leaders, insists that increasing price levels would again trigger a new burst of production on the farm and bring new surpluses pouring into government warehouses.

To some farm-state congressmen the Eisenhower-Benson philosophy of lowered supports is odious, to say the least.

If their anger lasts until the January session of Congress—an election year—the two-time winner in the farm battle will be up against heavy odds the third time around.

'Unemployment, I Love You'

That the gimme-gimme motif in America has reached alarming heights gets a boost from a situation in which thousands of workers on summer vacations on full pay are nevertheless trying to get UNEMPLOYMENT PAY!

SEVERAL STATES are reported victims of a situation in New York, where an unemployment insurance appeals board made the quaint ruling that vacation pay, in cases where a factory closes for inventory, etc., and pays the workers for the vacation, is a BONUS for past performances and not a salary for the two weeks of fun in the hills and on the beaches!

UNDER THE DECISION great numbers of workers are taking time out from boating, fishing and calypso concerts to rush in claims for dough for being OUT OF WORK.

And state officials say they will have to be paid, although it is declared that "anyone who takes such a handout while already being paid by an employer is violating a fundamental concept of unemployment insurance."

WE ARE A PEOPLE pretty fast with the loopholes and quick to take full advantage of technicalities, but the rush to get classification as an unemployed person while on a fully paid vacation does no credit to the American way.

Fancy professing your love of the American system, your appreciation of agencies providing an easier way of life, etc., and still going all-out to make it all look like a daily double program!

It is as if a man helped by the Good Samaritan got off at the end of the ride on one mule and demanded two MULES.

SOME UNIONS, it is said, have rules under which, when the shop closes down, their full salaries must be interpreted as a bonus.

If so it shows a curious trend in labor-management relations with "Dig deeper" the slogan.

When a man is on a paid vacation he would appear to be strictly on a vacation under definitions Webster ever wrote.

It is quite a trick to picture any shop and office-hand lying on a raft, dousing himself or herself with sunburn oil or asleep in a rowboat on the old fishing grounds, but crying out, "This is no vacation on pay. I am merely suffering from a bonus."

ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT, there are still folks who would take the golden goose for a ride, hornswoogle fairy godmothers and even demand that Santa Claus make his reindeers give venison between chimneys. (Christmas comes but once a year? Why?)

THE MAYFLOWER II is on exhibition in New York Harbor. In a cosmopolitan bustling-high-speed community made up of the peoples of many nations there is naturally some confusion about it.

New York is no Plymouth, Mass. Millions of its people are not experts on American history, with the result that an amazing ignorance is being shown.

Many New Yorkers think the Mayflower is a hotel and that Plymouth Rock is a swaying motion in a well-known auto. We think a question and answer column might help:

Q — Has the ship anything to do with Mike Todd, Walt Disney, Errol Flynn or Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer?

A — No. Not yet.

Q — Is this the ship being used in this summer's annual revival of "Showboat"?

A — You're thinking of the ship in which Edna Ferber and Oscar Mammernstein II crossed Fort Knox every year. This is the Mayflower II, a reproduction of one of the most famous vessels in history.

Q — Wasn't a single European movie actress discovered as a stowaway?

A — No; it didn't need that kind of publicity either.

Staff Under Orders

By SHERMAN ADAMS

This guest column, by the assistant to President Eisenhower, was written at the invitation of Victor Riesel who is enroute to Europe.

WASHINGTON

Our day at the White House begins early. By 7:30 a.m., when most of Washington is just sitting down to its breakfast at home, the White House staff often begins its day at the breakfast table, with coffee and eggs and problems.

The work begins as earnest as it begins early. More often than not the theoretical problems of yesterday are the practical business of the morning.

These staff discussions are soundings boards for the government. The business of government is to promote and protect the welfare of all the people of this country.

It is a vast and often complex undertaking and, as might be expected, opinions vary on the best means and methods to accomplish it.

Each morning, whether at breakfast, staff meetings, or in staff discussions, these opinions are tested.

THE DISCUSSIONS cover everything under the sun, and often a suggestion or recommendation for one phase of the government's work will help illuminate other phases.

Recently, for instance, on a very bright but overcast Washington morning, the staff had before it a report from the Commission on Government Security.

One feature of this report was a recommendation to eliminate the classification of "confidential" on government documents.

Of great interest to me—apart from the security aspects of public information—is the general proposition that the people should have the maximum intelligence about the operations of their government.

This is a vital matter in a republic for only a knowledgeable and enlightened people are capable of making the right decisions about their own government.

The President has been the leading proponent of the policy of telling the people of the country what their government is doing and why. His weekly press conferences, which are filmed for the first time in history, the press conferences that take place more or less regularly throughout almost all branches of the government, the information programs carried on in every department—all these are based upon the President's firm belief in that policy.

AS A RESULT, the people of the United States know more about their government today than ever before.

Take the economy, for instance. It is good for all our citizens to know as much about our economy as possible so that their opinion about public fiscal policies, for instance, can be based upon a knowledge of the reasons for those policies.

Much of the economic information originates in the vast and accurate statistical facilities of the government and flows out almost daily through the press to the public.

This is merely one service, however, that government provides to keep the people informed.

This administration is genuinely interested in the problems of the working man and woman. It not only provides information about these problems but renders services to help solve them.

It is interested in the extent to which the average working man is sharing in the current prosperity, in whether or not his earnings are sufficient to provide him and his family with a comfortable standard of living.

The attention of government is directed, then, toward protecting the working man and woman not only in the conditions and opportunities of employment but in other ways that affect his welfare.

A worker should not be required, for instance, to contribute from his earnings to the support of those who use such contributions for their own personal benefit.

AND HERE AGAIN is another instance of the tremendous advantage of public knowledge.

For just as public knowledge and understanding exert a powerful influence over the operations of the government, so the same kind of public scrutiny, when applied to the operations of union welfare and pension funds, will also be beneficial.

The taxpayers of the nation demand and get from the government detailed information on what the government is doing to protect their welfare and interest. The rights of citizens under laws governing safety and health conditions, discriminatory employment practices, wages and hours on government contracts and other matters are presented in as public a manner as possible.

Just so, the working people who contribute to unions should be advised of the financial operations of those organizations, especially those pertaining to welfare and pension funds that mean so much to the individual in later life.

Up until a year or two ago the necessity of protecting workers against the misappropriation of their own welfare funds had never been really brought home to the workers themselves.

The events of 1957 have made such need apparent, so that the President and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell are earnestly seeking the means and methods to abolish such abuses.

THE ANSWER, and an adequate one, is contained in the administration-supported legislation now before Congress. This measure assures the worker that his money, given to the organization that bargains for him and protects his job security, will be properly supervised and a public accounting of it made.

This is not an arbitrary action on the part of government. On the contrary, it is a response to the demand from workers, from labor leaders, from employers and from the public for adequate protection against the unscrupulous.

The concrete plans presented by the President and Secretary Mitchell are one further example of the progress in better information about the institutions created for the security, health and welfare of all our people.

Drought Still Grips Northeast

Crop Damage Already Counted In Millions

Scattering thunderstorms were expected to pelt the nation's mid-section again today, but for the drought-stricken Northeast there was no relief in sight.

A teasing trickle of rain was forecast for extreme southern New England. But elsewhere in the parched area it will be sunny and warmer.

The drought in the northeast already has caused millions of dollars to crops. Friday Gov. Foster Furcolo declared Massachusetts in a state of emergency. Some 32 cities and towns in that state are suffering from a drastic water shortage forcing emergency measures.

Some "heavy downpours", the first substantial rainfall to hit Massachusetts since mid-April, fell on southeast portions of the state Friday. Scattered areas of Rhode Island also received some rain.

It was a different story in New Mexico Friday. Floodwaters flashed through the desert country in western New Mexico after a series of cloudbursts.

From 50 to 150 persons were evacuated from their homes for a short time in Grants, a uranium mining town, when two creeks overflowed.

About 1,800 cars were lined up bumper to bumper for 4½ miles on Trans Continental Highway 66 at Correo, about 29 miles west of Albuquerque, after a traffic accident blocked the road and the rampaging waters made a detour impossible.

Today's wet belt will extend from the western slopes of the Rockies eastward to the Mississippi River and the Gulf and south Atlantic Coast states. Rains also will fall through the central Appalachians, the Weather Bureau reported.

Partly cloudy skies with isolated thundershowers were predicted from the Great Lakes southward through Tennessee. Skies will be fair along the Pacific Coast, but showers will begin in the Northwest as a Pacific front approaches.

President Karl J. Lindner presided at last night's special meeting.

Body Of Man Hurl'd From Plane Found

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The badly mangled body of a passenger hurled through the side of an airliner in a mysterious explosion has been found on a jagged, lava-strewn hill in the Mojave desert.

And officials say they still don't know what caused the blast.

Ground searches Friday came upon Saul F. Binstock, 62, a retired jeweler from North Hollywood, Calif., as they followed a trail of airplane fragments in the Ord mountains about 50 miles northeast of here.

"There was nothing of the body or in his clothes to indicate what caused the explosion," one official said. An autopsy has been ordered.

The blast ripped open the side of a Western Airlines twin-engine Convair early Thursday morning as it winged between Las Vegas, Nev., and Los Angeles at 10,000 feet.

Binstock, who was in the plane washroom, disappeared.

The Convair made an emergency landing at an Air Force base. The plane's other 12 passengers and crew of three were uninjured.

Before leaving Los Angeles for Las Vegas Wednesday night Binstock purchased $125,000 worth of round-trip flight insurance.

Some experts believe the blast was touched off by some explosive device, but they admit they have no proof as yet.

Meanwhile, investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation examined the pieces of plane fuselage in hopes of finding the cause of the blast.

The streets of Buenos Aires were strewn with thousands of political leaflets and posters of a score of parties—a far cry from the virtual monopoly of the "Vive Peron" slogans posted during the fallen president's time.

Thousands of Peron supporters turned out yesterday, however, on the fifth anniversary of the death of Eva Peron. Police broke up parades in Tucuman in the far north and in La Plata.

O'Brien said that if Hoffa had as much strength as the meeting demonstrated "I have nothing else to do" but withdraw. O'Brien, of Chicago, is a fourth vice president.

Formal nomination of presidential candidates comes Sept. 30 at the Teamster convention in Miami.

At a later news conference after the meeting, Hoffa said he did not intend to take the Fifth Amendment when he makes a scheduled appearance before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa read a 2,500 word campaign policy statement to the meeting. It was adopted without dissent. The nine-point platform endorsed the AFL-CIO ethical practice code with the exception of the Fifth Amendment provision which Hoffa opposes.

Goodyear Atomic Co., Union Plan Talks

WAVERTON, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations on a new contract between Local 10-689 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union and the Goodyear Atomic Corp. will resume Monday in Portsmouth.

Some 1,500 members of the local went on strike briefly when their contract expired at midnight, April 30, but returned to work under a Taft-Hartley Law court injunction. That 90-day injunction expires Aug. 5.

The union has been asking a 15-cent hourly wage increase, while the company, operator of the Atomic Energy Commission's plant in Pike County, has offered an 11-cent hourly increase retroactive to April 30. Present wage scales average $2.42 hourly.

Strike committees of the local have been reactivated, it was reported here today, possibly in preparation for duty in case negotiations for a new contract fail after the Taft-Hartley strike injunction runs out.

O. A. Knight, international president of the union, will report to the workers here Monday night on the progress of negotiations.

Fining Of FBI Agent Will Be Appealed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Justice Department has appealed the fining of an FBI agent who refused to turn over confidential records in a conspiracy trial.

Marcus S. Wallace was held in contempt and fined $1,000 by Federal District Court Judge Mac Swinford at Bowling Green, Ky., July 17.

Swinford said he based the fine on a recent Supreme Court decision which said defense attorneys were entitled to FBI records in certain cases.

Wallace's fine came in a case charging seven Bowling Green contractors with conspiracy to defraud the Federal Housing Administration by making false loan applications.

The Justice Department's appeal was filed with the clerk of the Federal District Court.

U.S. District Atty. J. Leonard Walker said the appeal was the first step toward taking the case to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

Indianapolis Traffic Hard On Man's Nerves

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Police arrested 46-year-old Oscar D. Foreman of Fountainview when they found him stomping on the hood of his parked car and hammering the fenders and body with a rock.

The reason? He said he'd worked himself to a frazzle on his farm, which was damaged badly by recent heavy rains, and then when he tried driving in Indianapolis traffic his nerves just wouldn't take any more.

4 More Candidates File For Offices

At least 150 more candidates are expected to file for non-partisan village, township and school district posts before the Aug. 7 deadline, the County Election Board said today.

Four more candidates filed today, boosting the total to 71, Frank R. O'Hallan, clerk, said. In predicting a rush in the last 10 days, O'Hallan pointed out 18 townships, 17 school districts and 5 villages will have non-partisan tickets.

There were 233 non-partisan candidates in the 1955 general election, he added.

The new candidates filing today were S. T. Kennedy, Washington Township trustee; Harry Pollock, Elkrun Township trustee; Robert C. Vas Fossan, Fairfield Township constable, and Edgar C. Bloor, Perry Township constable.

No American civilians or military personnel were known to be among the victims.

Girl, 10, Quits Talking For Month To Get Horse

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—Ten-year-old Kitty Butler's month of silence ended today. She sealed her lips June 27 in order to get a horse. For six years Kitty has begged for a horse but her father, John Butler, said no.

A month ago, Kitty told her father, "Daddy, I will do anything if you will buy me a horse." "All right, be quiet for a month," he told her.

He figured this was safe. Kitty gets straight "A's" in school except in citizenship, because, her teacher says, "Kitty talks too much."

After a few days the silence got on Butler's nerves. "Go ahead and talk," he told Kitty, "and I will buy you the horse."

But Kitty took no chances. She continued to communicate by note until the month ended.

Kitty has her horse picked out and named. "Prince," a cinnamon and white pinto, will be delivered next week.

Dulles To Attend Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered Secretary of State Dulles to fly Sunday to the London disarmament talks. Officials said Dulles will decide whether to continue or break off the talks.

A White House announcement said Eisenhower considered the problems at London "of such importance as to require the secretary's personal review and judgment."

Dulles will confer, officials said, with Harold E. Stassen, who continues as head of the American disarmament delegation.

Possibly, they added, Dulles may talk to Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin. He certainly will meet with the three other western delegations from Britain, France and Canada.

Both Eisenhower and Dulles, officials said, feel there is no substitute for personal conferences. Such face-to-face diplomacy is much more satisfactory than exchanging transatlantic cables, they said.

Man Jailed For Farm Development Program

PENZANCE, England (AP)—William Cornelius Ellis has been sentenced to a year in jail for developing his farm in the wrong man ner.

Police told a magistrate that Ellis, 40, made night raids on his neighbors, taking 48 laying hens, 135 other fowls, 7 pigs, 6 doors, a complete aluminum kitchen sink unit, an extending ladder, two gasoline engines—and a painting of the rape of Lucretia, worth $6 pounds ($140).

Aged Woman Trapped In Bathtub 8 Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Betty Schardt was reported gaining back her strength today in French Hospital following her eight-day ordeal of being trapped in a bathtub.

The 74-year-old widow was found Thursday night after neighbors, noticing a stack of newspapers on her doorstep, called police. She had fallen paralyzed into the empty bathtub, but her cries for help were drowned out by a blaring television set.

Hospital attendants said her condition was "surprisingly good."

STAGE DEMONSTRATIONS

HAVANA (AP)—Insurgent followers of Fidel Castro staged scattered demonstrations Friday on the fourth anniversary of the fugitive leader's revolutionary movement. But police held violence to a minimum.

The demonstration is part of a state-wide educational drive to reduce tractor accidents in which 58 Ohioans lost their lives last year. The standard farm tractor used in the demonstration is equipped with a protective frame, remote controls and other safety features to shield the machine from damage. The operator stands on the ground and puts the tractor through its paces by means of lines attached to the controls. The engine automatically stops when the tractor overturns.

The personnel directing the demonstration will maneuver the tractor through various situations which would normally be death traps.

They will turn the tractor over sideways by throwing a six-inch block under a rear wheel when the machine is traveling six miles an hour in a 40-foot circle. This demonstration will show the effects of speed when a rear tractor wheel hits a hidden object or drops in a hole.

They will demonstrate what happens to operators who work too closely to unshielded power take-off shafts, how to extinguish tractor fires, what constitutes proper tractor lighting and how to use red flags effectively when traveling on the highway.

lived within its budget. The city is in better financial shape than many cities of comparable size but a loss of court revenue will hurt," the mayor said.

At Lisbon, Mayor Wilbur Warren concurred with Mayor Crammer's views. He expressed the fear that a tax levy would have to be presented eventually to the voters there for additional revenue.

WITH REFERENCE TO the establishment of the new county courts, one of which is expected to be established in Salem, Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp commented recently, "Frankly, where any court is interested in any cases just to make money for itself or the city, it doesn't make for justice."

At the same meeting, Walter A. Hunston, president of the Columbiana County commissioners said, "if the mayors are in the picture for the next four years I'm wondering if the county courts will pay for themselves."

Salem's mayor said that the mayor's courts are necessary to the financial well-being of all county communities and he emphasized that all cases are weighed on the merit of evidence submitted by the arresting officer.

The pair was captured in Illinois after wounding a constable.

Bliss Ekes 2-1 Win Over Deming Jets In Pitchers' Duel

Furnace Nips Lincoln 6-5

Eljer Beats Marvels;
Kenmar Rips Parker's

Bliss upset Deming Jets 2-1, Electric Furnace nipped Lincoln Machine 6-5, Eljer edged Marvels 4-2, and Kenmar defeated Parker's 11-3 in city league softball games played at Kelley Park Friday night.

In a pitcher's duel, Bill Kyser of Bliss hurled a classy four-hitter and Don Fife of the Jets twirled a nifty three-hitter.

BLISS SCORED THEIR winning runs in the first inning. Perkins struck out, Wingrove singled to left, Kyser struck out and Kupka and Kekel then hit back to back doubles.

The only Jet run came in the sixth inning when Ed Hardy hit a home run off the left center field score board.

Furnace scored early and then had to stave off a Lincoln rally to win. Furnace scored four runs in the first three innings. Lincoln fought back and tied the contest 5-5 in the sixth frame, but Furnace won it in the bottom of the sixth on two walks and mis-cue by Lincoln.

THE MARVELS SCORED first in the top of the second frame.

Rayniak singled, and Barry struck out but reached second after the catcher dropped the ball on the third strike and threw wildly to first, Rayniak scoring. Di Antonio was then safe at first on the second baseman's error, with Barry scoring.

Eljer pulled out in front in the third by scoring three times on singles by Patterson, J. Miller and Parrish, an error, and a single by H. Miller.

Eljer wound up the scoring in the fifth. Parrish singled. W. Miller was hit by a pitch, and on the center fielder's error of the ball hit by H. Miller, Parrish scored.

KENMAR SCORED in every inning but the fourth.

In the first they got three runs Beatrice singled, Steitz singled, Beatrice reaching third, and Shoff popped to third.

On an attempted pick off of a steal by Steitz, Beatrice scored and Steitz went to third on an error. Reesch then singled, scoring Steitz, stole second, and scored on an error.

Kenmar added four more in the second and from then on the game's outcome wasn't in doubt.

Reds Take 11 Innings To Nail Down 6-5 Win Over Dodgers

CINCINNATI — A renewed meeting between Cincinnati's Redlegs and Brooklyn's Dodgers produced no new fisticuffs—just another tension-cramped game that took the Reds 11 innings to nail down.

The Reds had built up an early four-run cushion Friday night and then coasted into a 5-5 tie. It took a double by reliever Herschell Freeman and a run-making single by Johnny Temple to win the game, 6-5.

As to the possible fist-fighting, both sides had a stern admonition against any outbreak from National League President Warren Giles. He warned the four principals in an Ebbets Field fracas last July 11 not to stage a repetition. And for added emphasis, he warned the managers, too.

The Rhinelanders had staged one of their famous uprisings in the fifth inning with a five-run rally on five hits—including two homers.

Ed Bailey started the outburst with his home run, and Don Hook and Roy McMillan set the stage for two more runs with a single and a bunt.

The two base-runners advanced on a sacrifice by Hal Jeffcoat, and scored on Temple's single and Gus Bell's sacrifice fly.

Patterson Set For Title Bout

Champion Finished
With Heavy Training

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is finished with heavy training and waiting for the bell to send him after Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in Monday night's title match at the Polo Grounds.

After 130 rounds of boxing at his Greenwood Lake, N.Y., camp, the champ's manager, Gus D'Amato, called Floyd "a better fighter than he was the night he knocked out Archie Moore."

"He is ready to go 15 rounds, if necessary, and he is hitting hard enough to finish his man if he gets the opportunity," said D'Amato.

Jackson wound up his pre-fight boxing today at his remote camp in Columbia, N. J. Before he started he told newsmen he expected to give Patterson such a beating that he wouldn't be interested in any September rematch.

"But I'll go through with it, if he wants to," said Jackson. "I never went back on my word in my life."

While the boxers reached the end of their long training grinds, promoter Emil Lence reported an upsurge of interest in the 15-round match. Lence reported an advance sale of over $125,000. He predicted a gate of "over $300,000" and about 25,000 customers.

Patterson gets a $175,000 guarantee or 40 per cent of the net and radio-TV cash. Jackson gets 20 per cent.

Patterson still was a lopsided 5 to 1 favorite to win and they were quoting an 8 to 5 price that he would stop the Hurricane for the second time in his career. Jackson lost a split decision after a 12-round elimination match with Patterson, June 8, 1956.

Both fighters break camp Sunday. Patterson expected to come at 184 pounds, heaviest of his career, and Jackson probably will weigh about 194 pounds.

A'S RECALL COLEMAN

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pitcher Rip Coleman was recalled Friday by the Kansas City Athletics from Buffalo of the Class AAA International League.

The lefthander, obtained by the A's from the New York Yankees last spring, has a 5-3 record with the Bisons. Coleman started the season with Kansas City, then was sent to Buffalo on 24-hour recall.

Kansas City returned pitcher Glenn Cox to Buffalo on option.

Baltimore, Chicago Split 5-2, 0-1

St. Louis Nips Pittsburgh 4-3; Detroit Trips New York 3-2

By The Associated Press

For the moment, anyway, it looks as if all the contenders in that fantastic National League pennant brawl are a bunch of "old pros." All that is, except the Old Pros themselves — Brooklyn's Dodgers.

Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia all came through in the clutch as the battle rolled through four extra-inning games Friday while the Brooks, taking their lumps away from chummy Ebbets Field, fell short and skidded to fourth with their third defeat in a row.

The Braves had to win to hold the lead, and they did—beating New York's Giants 6-3 on an 11-inning, three-run homer by Nippy Jones.

The Cardinals had to win to stay within three percentage points of Milwaukee, and they did—defeating Pittsburgh 4-3 as Al Dark singled with the bases loaded in the 10th.

The Redlegs had to win to stay only a game off the pace, and they did—blowing a 5-1 lead as the Dodgers gave it the big try, but coming back to win 6-5 in 11 innings on a two out single by Johnny Temple.

And the Phillies, scrambling to stay alive, turned on the juice in the 10th to pick up two unearned runs that beat Chicago's Cubs 3-1, leaving the fifth-place Phils just a half game behind Brooklyn.

The American League race showed signs of coming alive, too, what with Jim Bunning two-hitting New York for a 3-2 Detroit victory. The Yankees have lost three in a row and five of seven to lead Chicago by three games.

The White Sox, after losing 5-2 at Baltimore, came back to win the second game of a two-night doubleheader 1-0 on the two-hit pitching of Jim Wilson and Billy Pierce who made his second relief appearance to save it.

Boston walloped Cleveland 10-1, with Ted Williams taking an undisputed hold on the batting lead again and Washington beat Kansas City 3-2.

The Braves, after losing two in a row to the Phillies, got back to business with a five-run walk to Andy Pafko. Then along came Jones. The ex-Cardinal, back to the majors as a first base reserve after Joe Adcock broke a leg, walloped one of reliever Stu Miller's soft pitches to bust it up.

Gene Conline won it with a perfect three-inning relief job after Lew Burdette had been smacked for three home runs, by Hank Sauer, starting pitcher Ruben Gomez and Ed Bressoud. The Braves tied the Giants with two runs in the seventh as Red Schoendienst pushed his hit streak to 23 games with an RBI double and scored on a single by Frank Torre.

Willard Schmidt won his ninth in a row for a 9-1 record, coming in on relief of Lindy McDaniel after the Cards had tied the Bucs 3-3 in the fifth inning on home runs by Ken Boyer and Don Blasingame. A pair of walks and a bunt loaded the bases for Dark in the 10th against reliever Roy Kline, who lost his seventh in a row for a 2-15 record.

Cincinnati matched the Cards with three in a row as relief winner Hersh Freeman doubled with two out in the 11th against reliever Roger Craig, then sprinted home on Temple's hit. Ed Bailey's 15th homer had triggered a five-run fifth for the Redlegs against Sandy Koufax, but the Brooks battled back on Elmer Valo's two-run pinch homer in the eighth and a two-run single by Roy Campanella in the ninth.

Ed Bouabee, who was 3-for-4, doubled in the 10th for the Phils off loser Bob Rush (1-11) and scored as reliever Turk Lown threw wild on Stan Lopata's bunt. Lopata, who went to third, scored on Harry Anderson's single. Warren Hacker won it.

Wilson won his 11th for the White Sox. When he walked loser Ken Lehman in the ninth and a sacrifice pushed the runner to second, good point, very nice landscaping. Only $8,500. Fully furnished, $10,000.

Ted Williams Knocks In Three Runs

Tribe Drops Into 5th Place
As Red Sox Register 10-1 Win

BOSTON (AP)—The baseball fortunes of the Cleveland Indians, who have remained at or near the top of the American League in the past 10 seasons, reached a low ebb Friday night.

They slipped into the second division as the Boston Red Sox pounded out a lopsided 10-1 victory. It was the third straight loss for the Tribe and dropped them into fifth place only two games ahead of sixth-place Baltimore.

The Indians were powerless against Boston's Willard Nixon who allowed only eight hits. The Red Sox righthander missed a shutout when Jim Piersall bobbled a hit in the third inning allowing Cleveland to score an unearned run.

While Nixon kept the Indians under control for his eighth victory, his teammates were belting. 13 hits off three Cleveland pitchers.

Indians' manager Kerby Farrell sent three left-handers to the mound, Don Mossi, Dick Tomaneck and Bud Daley.

Mossi started for the Tribe and was charged with his fifth loss in 12 decisions.

Ted Williams knocked in his first of three runs with a single in the first inning. Norm Zauchin, who batted in four Boston runs, homered in the second to put Boston ahead 2-0.

Larry Raines singled in the third and Mossi scored from second base when Piersall had trouble fielding the ball.

With two men out in the fifth, the Red Sox exploded for three runs and sent Mossi to the show-

Sammy White started a five-run Boston uprising in the sixth with a triple. Nixon walked and Piersall singled, scoring White. Malzone singled, leading the bases, and Williams hit a two-run double. Bud Daley relieved Tomaneck and was greeted by Zauchin's double which sent two more Boston runners home with the final Red Sox runs.

The Indians send Ray Narleski against the Red Sox today. Rudy Minarcin or Ike Delock will start for Boston.

Al Lopez Advocates
40-Player Limit

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox today advocated a limit of 40 players which a major league club may have under its control.

"That's the way things were in the old days before farm systems," Lopez said, "and that's one way we can equalize the strength of various teams now." The quiet-spoken White Sox manager said the only other way would be to make all minor league players owned by major league clubs subject to a draft after one year.

Under the present set-up, a major league club may control 40 players—25 on the parent roster.

But literally hundreds of others are on the rosters of farm teams.

Sophomore lefthander Art Quirk of Dartmouth struck out 17 batters in a 1957 game with Army, one short of the school record.

The 1957 University of Connecticut football team will play 10 games, the school's longest schedule since 1901.

$150,000 Awaits
Arlington Winners

By The Associated Press
The richest pots of gold on the American turf today awaits the winners of the $100,000 added Arlington Handicap and the $50,000 added Arlington Lassie at Arlington Park in its closing day. But there also is plenty of cash on the line at the other major tracks with the $50,000 added Oaks heading Monmouth Park's card, the $40,000 Dwyer for 3-year-olds topping Belmont Park's program, Narragansett Park offering the $20,000 added Bristol Handicap for sprinters and Del Mar featuring the $15,000 added Oceanside Handicap.

Swoon's Son, winner of 22 races in 31 lifetime starts, is the "big" horse in the field of 14 named for the Arlington Handicap on the grass course.

E. Gay Drake's brilliant 4-year-old carries top weight of 128 pounds in his bid for seventh place on the all-time money winning list. He has earned $665,530. With 14 starters the rich Arlington fixture will gross $125,400 with $83,000 going to the winner. In fact third money of $10,000 will vault Swoon's Son past Social Outcast and Assault on the money winning ladder.

Alex Miteff
Overpowers
Julio Mederos

WASHINGTON (AP)—Argentina's lethal-fisted Alex Miteff counted another knockout victim today and got set for a leap into heavyweight high society.

Miteff, 22, found the doors opening after overpowering Cuban Julio Mederos in a nationally televised brawl at Capitol Arena Friday night.

Mederos, his face ballooning and blood gushing from cuts inside the mouth, was unable to report for action after the sixth round. Under District of Columbia boxing rules, it was recorded as a seventh round technical knockout. He also was shelved for two months as a result of the beating. Matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club said he was ready to pair Miteff with the winner of the Willie Pastrano-Roy Harris fight next month.

Alex battered his 24-year-old, more experienced foe from corner to corner.

Alex, who at 202½ had a 5½-pound weight advantage, never did floor Mederos. But his block-busters staggered the Cuban again and again.

Pennsylvania
Lawn Tennis
Finals Open

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Californian and a New Yorker met today in the women's finals of the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis championships as the men's competition boiled down to a possible preview of the Davis Cup championships next December.

Top-seeded Darlene Hand of Montebello, Calif., and fourth-seeded Mrs. Dorothy Head Knobe of Forest Hills, N. Y., squared off for the distaff title after scoring semi-final victories Friday at suburban Merion Cricket Club.

Men's singles play resumed after a one-day rest with Australia's Neale Fraser matched against U. S. Davis Cup star Vic Seixas and Ashley Cooper of Australia meeting newcomer Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Tex.

Giammalva, Mike Green of Miami and Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, were named to the U.S. Davis Cup team Friday for next week's American zone final. Seixas had previously been named.

Thirty-two-year-old Mrs. Knobe, a veteran of the courts, easily knocked off 18-year-old Mimi Arnold 8-6, 6-0 in Friday's semifinal.

Miss Hard fought hard to down game Janet Hopps, a Seattle social science teacher, 10-12, 6-3, 8-6.

Bolt Leading In Eastern
Open Tourney

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tommy Bolt had one of golf's most self-confident players and another fighting to make his first Ryder Cup team breathing down his neck to start today's third round in the Eastern Open.

Bolt couldn't come close to continuing his record breaking start and went off with only a two-stroke lead over Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso.

Temperamental Tommy fell from 664 to par 72 Friday and had a tough time to do that well on Mount Pleasant's 6,895-yard course to record a halfway total 136.

Ford, Masters champ and total winner of more than $38,000, stayed consistently at 69 for the second time while Hawkins whipped out a 66 behind his opening 72 for his 138.

Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., was next in line with a total 139 strokes in the field of 96 remaining after those higher than 151 were eliminated Friday.

The 33-year-old Hawkins admitted that a chance to make the 10-man Ryder Cup team was a big inducement for him to play in the $20,000 Eastern which is the last chance for eligibles to earn points. Hawkins was 11th in the Ryder standings going into this 72-hole tournament.

NCAA Tourney To Be Held March 21-22

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The 1958 N C A A basketball tournament championship will be played March 21-22 in the 18,000-seat Freedom Hall here, according to the chairman of the association's tournament committee.

A. C. Lomborg told newsmen here by telephone Friday Louisville had been selected as the site where winners of four regional tournaments will clash for the national title.

The regional tournaments, Lomborg said, would be played March 14-15 in Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., Charlotte, N. C., and San Francisco.

He said host schools would be Eastern Kentucky, Western Kentucky, Murray and Morehead State colleges.

Jim Bunning Says

He Can't Pace Self

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Bunning, a stringbean righthander who has developed into the top pitcher on the Detroit Tigers in just one year, said today there is only one way he can win games.

"There is no pacing myself," he said. "I've got to bear down on every pitch to every batter of every team or someone hits one out of the park."

Friday night in the Yankee Stadium, Bunning won his 12th game of the year by whipping the league leading New York Yankees, 3-2. He didn't allow a hit until Yogi Berra tripled in the seventh. Mickey Mantle hit a homer in the ninth for the only other Yank hit as Bunning wound up with a two-hitter.

Bunning is 25 and comes from Southgate, Ky.

It was in the Caribbean League during the winter that he really developed. His slider suddenly came alive.

They expect to spend most of their vacation at Fullerton, Md., their former home. David Babcock of Warren, student for the ministry, who has one more year in the seminary at Capital University, Columbus, will preach both Sundays the pastor is absent.

THE REV. DONALD J. VOELM and family of Grace Evangelical and Reformed church left this morning for Dunkirk, N. Y., to spend a week at Conference Camp Grounds.

Mr. Voelm will teach in the adult department, and Mrs. Voelm in the nursery department. They will be at home the following week, and the next week will be on vacation in eastern Pennsylvania.

The summer assistant pastor, D. H. Brown of Cleveland, will attend to pastoral duties during the absence of Mr. Voelm. Robert Ahrendt, summer assistant pastor here a year ago, who will begin this fall his senior year in Eden Theological Seminary, St. Louis, will be here Sunday and assist with the morning service.

THE REV. AND MRS. H. J. Scheidmante of the Presbyterian church will leave Thursday to spend a couple of days at Chautauque Lake, N.Y., before going to Bruce Peninsula, Ontario, for a week, and will conclude their vacation at Finger Lakes, N.Y. During the pastor's absence, John Bookwalter, student at Amherst College, will occupy the pulpit Sunday, Aug. 4, and the Rev. Henry Storchhaus of Lowellville Presbyterian church, Sunday, Aug. 11.

Robert Longworth of Carroll county representative in the legislature and county school superintendent, will preach at the 10:45 a.m. service Sunday in the Methodist church. Mr. Longworth is a brother of the pastor, the Rev. W. S. Longworth, who with Mrs. Longworth is absent on a European tour.

FAIRFIELD DRURIAN Club had its July meeting at Heck's restaurant Thursday evening with 65 present. At the next meeting, Thursday evening, Aug. 22, National Vice President Rome Schwagel, manager of the Arthur Godfrey farm at Keedysville, Md., will be the speaker.

TAIL-LESS CALF. William Lee Woolf of near North Georgetown holds a Holstein calf that was born minus a tail at the Woolf farm three days ago. The heifer is normal in all other respects. A tail-less calf is a rarity in the animal world, local cattlemen point out.

The date of the club picnic has been changed from Sunday, Aug. 4 to Sunday, Sept. 8.

TOWN PLANNING Commission met in city hall Thursday evening and discussed the planning code in preparation with special reference to technical terms that will have to be used. Promoters of a proposed new housing development were to have been present, but did not appear. The next meeting will be Thursday evening Aug. 8. Residents of Seventh St., newly built up with modern homes two blocks east of N. Main St., near the north corporation line, had their fourth annual picnic in the form of a big ham supper Thursday evening. Supper was served for about 80 on an improvised long table on the paved street of the east block, closed from 5 to 9 p.m. The purpose was to afford neighbors an opportunity to become better acquainted.

General Tire Co. OKs Wage Package

ARON, Ohio — The General Tire & Rubber Co. has agreed to a 15-cent hourly wage package with the United Rubber Workers following a pattern set by the "Big Four" of the rubber industry.

General, which employs 3,500 workers here and in Waco, Tex., reached agreement Friday after six days of negotiations in Cleveland.

Negotiations in the rubber industry were under a wage reopening clause. The contracts run until April 15, 1959.

The pattern was set Monday when Goodyear Tire & Rubber reached agreement. B. F. Goodrich Co. and the United States Rubber Co. concluded negotiations Thursday. The last of the "Big Four," Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., reached agreement with the union Friday.

Prior to the negotiations the hourly pay in the major rubber companies averaged $2.30 to $2.43, a union spokesman said.

Alliance Man Arrested On Gambling Charge

ALLIANCE, Ohio — As the result of a raid on a downtown billiard room early today one man was arrested on a charge of operating rooms for gambling and eight others were charged with suspicion. Police Capt. Donald Cowen, who led the raid, said a local man had complained he had lost $20 in a game he considered "crooked."

PRISONER IS BAREFOOTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A 24-year-old man being held for investigation of a robbery is barefooted in Franklin County jail. And for good reason. Deputy Glenn Walker said the man's combat boots, fitted with heel plates, were regarded as "weapons."

Pennsylvania Pike Case Appeal Planned

HARRISBURG, Pa. — It appeared unlikely today that Dauphin County Court would hear new trial appeals before next October for five men convicted of conspiring to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of 19 million dollars.

Judge Homer L. Kreider said the earliest probable date the court could be ready to hear the appeals would be during Dauphin County arguments session on Oct. 2.

Meanwhile, attorneys began preparing preliminary motions for new trials for the five found guilty Thursday night. Four others were acquitted.

Those convicted were: Thomas J. Evans, 73-year-old former Republican chairman of the toll road commission; James F. Torrance, suspended GOP Commissioner; Charles Stickler, president of Manu - Mine Research and Development Co., Reading, Pa., and a nephew of Evans; Clayton A. Landside, former vice president and general manager of the firm, and Paul J. McNeill, former finance officer for the commission.

All were convicted of conspiracy. Evans and Torrance were also found guilty of misconduct in office and Stickler and Landside of cheating by false pretenses.

The prosecution contended the nine defendants conspired to defraud the commission through a multi-million dollar contract awarded Manu-Mine to fill in old mine holes along a six-mile section of the toll road northeast extension.

County Income Rise Of $12 Million Reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio — State Auditor James A. Rhodes says Ohio's 88 county governments last year reported incomes of more than 12 million dollars above income for the previous year.

He said revenues of $252,006,299 were reported in 1956 and spending of $230,988,791. Spending was up more than 18 millions over the 1955 expenses.

He said these reports covered only operation maintenance and interest. The counties had nearly 72 millions additional in non-operating income, including the proceeds of bond issues.

Biggest source of county government continued to be the general real estate tax which produced 28 per cent of the revenue. Other operating revenue sources included motor vehicle licenses, state grants, federal grants, gasoline tax and the sales tax.
